INTRODUCTION

1.1 Puerto Rico Fiscal Agency and Financial Advisory Authority

AAFAF is an independent public corporation and governmental instrumentality with separate legal existence, fiscal and administrative autonomy, and independence from the Government of Puerto Rico. Pursuant to Act No. 2 of January 18th, 2017 (“Act No. 2”), AAFAF was created for the purpose of acting as fiscal agent, financial advisor and reporting agent of the Government of Puerto Rico, its agencies, instrumentalities, subdivisions, public corporations and/or municipalities, including Covered Entities as defined under the Puerto Rico Oversight, Management and Economic Stability Act of 2016, Public Law No. 114-187 (“PROMESA”), and to assist said entities in confronting the grave fiscal and economic emergency that Puerto Rico is currently experiencing. AAFAF has assumed the majority of the fiscal agency and financial advisory responsibilities previously performed by the Government Development Bank for Puerto Rico.

In light of Act No.2, AAFAF is the agency responsible to coordinate the Government’s sustainable use of resources, while presenting a global and coordinated view of the Government’s capital needs. As such, AAFAF has authority to monitor compliance with the budget certifications approved under PROMESA and to review matters such as, but not limited to, contracts, transactions and regulations of agencies and instrumentalities of the Government. Act No. 2 authorizes AAFAF to enter into professional services agreements that are necessary or convenient to assist in the proper execution of its duties.

1.2 COVID-19 Pandemic and Great Lockdown

The coronavirus disease of 2019 is an infectious viral disease caused by severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (“COVID-19”). Since China first alerted the World Health Organization (“WHO”) of flu-like cases in its Hubei’s province capital of Wuhan on December 31, 2019, COVID-19 has spread globally, resulting in an ongoing pandemic and a global humanitarian challenge. As of May 9th, 2020, there were approximately 4 million confirmed cases with around 277,000 confirmed deaths worldwide. As of the same date, in Puerto Rico there were 2,031 confirmed cases and 102 confirmed deaths.

Currently there are no available vaccines nor specific antiviral treatments for COVID-19. Hence, in order to protect lives, governments around the world, including the Government, have implemented preventive measures to reduce transmission of the infection, such as: staying at home, avoiding crowds, keeping social distancing and constantly practicing overall good hygiene. These preventive measures have included widespread closure of businesses, which in turn has resulted in a significant economic slowdown (“Great Lockdown”). According to the International Monetary Fund (“IMF”), the Great Lockdown will likely cause the worst economic recession since the Great Depression.

1.3 Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Stability Act

In response to the COVID-19 Pandemic and the Great Lockdown, on March 27, 2020, the United States Federal Government enacted the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Stability Act of 2020, Public Law 116-136 (“CARES Act”). This statute contains multiple sources of aid for citizens, businesses, as well as for state and territorial governments. Among the measures included in the CARES Act is the creation of the Coronavirus Relief Fund (“CRF”). These funds must be distributed by the Department of the Federal Treasury (“Federal Treasury”) to the fifty states, Washington DC, local governments, territories and governments of Native American tribes, according to certain parameters.

In the specific case of the territories, the CARES Act established that they would separate $3 billion from the $150 billion to be distributed among said territories using the population estimate most recently published by the Census as a basis. The Federal Treasury, after making the corresponding distribution based on the estimates of the Federal Census for the year 2019, determined that the Government would receive $2,240,625,863.80 under the CRF. In order to receive these funds in a timely manner, the Puerto Rico Department of the Treasury ("Hacienda") opened a new bank account at a private financial institution in Puerto Rico.

As part of the creation of the CRF, Congress stipulated in Section 5001 of the CARES Act that the funds to be distributed would be subject to various limitations, such as:

- They must be used for necessary expenses incurred as part of the emergency caused by COVID-19;
- The expenses covered by said funds cannot have been previously budgeted as of March 27, 2020, the date on which the CARES Act was enacted; and
- Funds must be incurred between March 1, 2020, and December 30, 2020.

In addition to these three main conditions, the Federal Treasury issued guidelines that interpreted these limitations and established additional parameters for the disbursement of these funds. In that sense, the Federal Treasury stipulated that the first limitation that Congress imposed refers to the fact that the funds must be used to finance actions taken to respond to the public health emergency caused by COVID-19. This includes direct measures, such as medical needs, as well as indirect actions to respond to the situation, such as financial aid to those who have suffered losses due to the mandatory closings caused by COVID-19.

However, the guidelines of the Federal Treasury expressly state that CRF funds cannot be used to cover loss of income of government entities. Nor can these CRF funds be used to cover other ineligible expenses under CARES Act. It is clear then that by statutory provision, the funds received by Puerto Rico as part of the CRF are not unrestricted.

Regarding the term "necessary", the Federal Treasury stated in its guidelines that it would be interpreting it broadly, as long as the expense to be incurred is reasonably necessary according to the reasonable judgment of the government official in charge of the disbursements.

Regarding the second requirement, the Federal Treasury mentioned that the requirement of not having been budgeted as of March 27, 2020 is met, as long as the expense cannot be legally financed with a budgeted item, or, the expense is for a matter substantially different from any budgeted item. The concept of “most recently approved budget” refers to the approved budget for the fiscal year, without taking into account special allocations or budget reallocations approved in response to the COVID-19 Pandemic. It is important to mention that the Federal Treasury makes it clear that an expense will not be considered to have been budgeted merely because it can be covered through an emergency fund or reserve account.

Finally, regarding the requirement to incur costs on or before December 30, 2020, the Federal Treasury establishes that the cost will be considered “incurred” when the funds to cover it have been spent by the government. In accordance with our law, we can conclude that this refers to the fact that the funds have been disbursed.

On the other hand, the Federal Treasury decided that funds from the CRF may not be used for the following, among other things:

- Expenses for the State share of Medicaid;
- Damages covered by insurance;
- Payroll or benefits expenses for employees whose jobs are not substantially dedicated to mitigating or responding to the COVID-19 Pandemic;
- Expenses that have been, or will be, reimbursed by any other federal program, including others established in the CARES Act itself;
- Reimbursement to donors for donations of goods or services;
- Employee bonuses, except overtime or “hazard pay”;
- Severance pay;
- Legal settlements.

Furthermore, these guides establish several examples of eligible uses. Among these the following stand out:

- COVID-19 related medical expenses;
- Expenses associated with public health issues related to COVID-19;
- Payroll expenses for public safety, public health, health care, human services and similar employees whose services are substantially dedicated to mitigating or responding to the COVID-19 public health emergency;
- Expenses aimed at facilitating compliance with public health measures to respond to the COVID-19 emergency;
- Expenses associated with financial assistance to deal with situations caused by the COVID-19 emergency (“business interruption”);
- Any other expense reasonably necessary to exercise eligible government actions.

On May 15, 2020, Hon. Governor Wanda Vázquez Garced signed Executive Order Num. OE-2020-040 that adopted the Strategic Disbursement Plan (“Strategic Disbursement Plan”), for the use of the allocation of the CRF to the Government. Said plan addresses both government needs (mainly associated with attending to the public health emergency and continuing government operations) and those of the private sector, which has been severely affected by interruption of operations. For specific details regarding the Strategic Disbursement Plan, please follow this link: http://www.aafaf.pr.gov/assets/strategic-disbursement-plan-crf.pdf
The Strategic Disbursement Plan created the Disbursement Oversight Committee ("Committee") to monitor the expeditious processing of CRF disbursements while ensuring adherence with the strictest standards, as detailed therein. The Committee shall be composed of the Executive Director of AAFAF, who shall be its chairman, the Secretary of the Puerto Rico Department of the Treasury, and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget ("OGP"). The Committee shall work in coordination with the agencies listed in this plan as leaders for each measure and/or program ("Lead Agencies").

Among the responsibilities of the Committee stated in the Strategic Disbursement Plan, the current proposal is pertinent to the following:

- Establish strict controls to ensure that all expenses and disbursements comply with the requirements and conditions established in the CARES act and in regulations and guidelines issued by the U.S. Treasury Department;
- Establish procedures to ensure adequate documentation of all disbursements;
- Monitor all disbursements;
